

How sunflowers become detergent - podcast episode with CDS speaker Prof. Dr.-Ing. Kai Sundmacher

16.04.2020 - Petroleum is not only part of fuel but of many products for everyday use. In search for alternative bio-based materials one of the CDS speakers, Prof. Dr.-Ing. Kai Sundmacher (part of the Faculty of Process and System Engineering at the OvGU and Max Planck Institute Magdeburg), is doing research on how sunflowers can become detergent.
